R.P. Vickerstaff

This event brings B.C.'s insurance industry and elected representatives together for an evening of networking in honour of Robert (Bob) P. Vickerstaff. Bob was a highly respected insurance company executive; one who built Axa Pacific Insurance into one of western Canada's leading insurers. Passionate about our industry, he had a strong belief in free enterprise government and was a champion of western Canadian business. Never afraid to take up a cause, he believed strongly that our industry was under-appreciated and in need of a higher profile.
